Signups for water lines being taken

30 miles of new lines contingent on $50,000 in local tap-on fees

The Morgan County Water District is accepting signups for the Phase 11 Line Extension Project. The district must have $50,000 in local tap-on fees in the bank before USDA Rural Development will release funds approved for the project.

The following roads are to be considered for water line extensions if there are enough signups from these areas: Ky. 2498, Ky. 705, Rt. 844, Murphy Fork Road, Nickell Branch Road, Pekin Road, New Cummer Road, Ky. 3345, Ky. 205, Denniston Road, Ky. 976, Barnett Ridge Road, Peyton Ridge Road, and Vest Branch.

"Tap-on fees are currently $590 and we will work with individuals who wish to make arrangements to pay this fee in installments," said Water District Manager Barbara Stacy, "but we must have $50,000 from tap-on fees in the bank before this project can begin."

"The water district is currently working with funding agencies to get all the required paperwork submitted and we hope that construction can begin by early spring," Stacy said.

Persons interested in signing up for water service are invited to stop by the district office at 408 Prestonsburg Street to review the project map to see if they are in the project area.

Information also can be obtained by calling 743-1204.

Donna Elam to be honored Oct. 26 upon retirement

The public is invited to join the staff of the USDA West Liberty Service Center in celebration of the County Executive Director Donna Elam's retirement. The Service Center will host an open house, with refreshments to be served on Wednesday, October 26, from 1:00-4:00 p.m. to honor Mrs. Elam.

Mrs. Elam began her career with USDA in 1977, working as a public servant for more than 28 years. Her career has been filled with many challenges including administering a variety of disaster-relief programs, ad-hoc programs, and most recently the Tobacco Transition Payment Program (TTPP), and through it all she has provided tireless, professional, dedicated service to our farmers and other local agricultural agencies in our area. Everyone is invited to attend the open house and join in thanking and congratulating her on her well-earned retirement.

October 10-15 is Morgan County Extension Homemakers Week

Public invited to help celebrate today with 'Lunchin the Park'

Morgan County Judge Executive Tim Conley has proclaimed Oct. 10-15 as Morgan County Extension Homemakers Week. The Morgan County Homemakers have just kicked off their 55th new club year in the county with county officer and chair training. The organization has been in existence in the county for 55 years. This group is under the direction of University of Kentucky County Extension Agents for Family and Consumer Sciences.

There are six active clubs in the county and more than 164 members.

To help celebrate, the public is invited to join the Extension Homemakers at a "Lunch in the Park" at Old Mill Park today (Thursday, Oct. 13) between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. For a nominal fee of $5.00 anyone can enjoy lunch with the Extension Homemakers and even take home some baked goods. The proceeds from the event will be used to fund the Homemakers scholarship program.

This event also promotes membership for only $7.00. Anyone who is interested may join and support Morgan County Extension Homemakers by contacting Nellie Buchanan, Morgan County Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Sciences, at the Extension Service office, 743-3292.

Membership is available by joining one of the active clubs throughout the county. They are: Circle of Friends, Country Cousins, Ezel, Towne 'N Country, West Liberty, or Woodsbend, or by starting a new club with only six interested people. In addition, mailbox or "at-large" membership is available as well.

Extension Homemakers learn through educational research based programs offered by the University of Kentucky in an informal setting. Topics of study for the 2005-2006 year include: "Strong Women, Strong Bones," "Centerpieces and Table Scapes," "Unwrapping the Holidays," Holiday Fun Day (Nov. 17), "Skeletons in the Closet," "Lighten Up, Life's not that Serious," "Gifts from the Heart & Home," "Celebrating the Memories of One's Life," "History & Preservation of Baskets in Kentucky." Education trips and tours are also planned. Topics of interest to the whole family are offered. Heritage skills are still supported as well. Call or stop by the extension office or contact an extension homemaker member to join today!

Join the Homemakers for "Lunch in the Park" on your lunch break, Thursday, Oct. 13, and support Morgan County Extension Homemakers.

Big squash

Hubert Jenkins, of Rockhouse, stopped by The Courier Office recently to show this huge banana squash that he grew in his garden this season. The squash was 35 inches long and weighed 45 pounds. Mr. Jenkins said he had been growing these for years, but this was the largest one he ever grew. He planted two hills of squash this year and had a total of 12 squash on both hills.

Parents say system failed son who died of a drug overdose

Had asked court to jail him, mother says; case being reviewed

An Associated Press Story Reprinted From The Lexington Herald-Leader

The drug-related death of a 20-year-old man has raised questions about how the state deals with probation violators and how judges and probation officers monitor these cases.

Daniel Haney of Hwy. 191, Hazel Green, died Aug. 7, five days after his mother tried to convince his probation officer that he should be jailed.

Haney had failed three drug tests dating back to April. His probation officer, James Nickell, gave Haney a "last warning" and tried to get treatment for him. He had arranged to see him again the next month.

Haney died after snorting a lethal mixture of methadone and sedatives. He had been on pretrial diversion, a type of probation, for burglarizing an auto parts store.

According to his mother, Mariece Haney, he didn't need another chance. "He needed help," she said.

The Haney's said Morgan Circuit Judge Sam Long told them he was never informed of their son's two positive tests for marijuana and the third for marijuana and opiates. Daniel Haney's probation file does not indicate that the judge had been contacted, although it details efforts by the probation officer to get him into treatment.

Mark Davidson, Nickell's supervisor, said Nickell told him he had contacted the judge after one of the failed drug tests.

James Wagner, assistant director of the state Division of Probation and Parole, said he would have preferred that Nickell had reported all of the violations to the judge, but that there is no policy requiring him to do so.

"In a perfect world, it would have been reported," Wagner said.

Wagner said Nickell followed proper procedure by trying to get Haney treatment. Wagner said he had not spoken with Nickell about the case and it is under review.

Nickell, who has been a probation officer for nearly 15 years, declined to comment on the case.

Perry County Commonwealth's Attorney John Hansen said Nickell should have notified the judge and prosecutor of the failed drug tests before referring Haney to drug treatment.

Only Oregon and South Carolina have specific guidelines for what action probation officer can take, according to the American Probation and Parole Association, which supports increasing the authority of probation officers.

In April 2004, Daniel Haney and two friends were accused of Board seeks name for new elementary schl.

Small claims suits are ok'd for parents with delinquent lunch bills

The Morgan County School District Finance Corp. on Monday approved a resolution authorizing the issuance of $8,890,000 worth of school building revenue bonds and authorized the school district's bonding agent, Hilliard-Lyons of Louisville, to advertise the bonds for sale on Oct. 26.

Later, in its regular October meeting, the board of education approved a contract for the repayment of the bonds, giving the green light to the sale of the bonds and construction of a new elementary school near Grear to replace the WPA-built school at Cannel City.

The school board also reviewed some 40 suggested names for the new school that have been submitted by students, groups, and individuals for the board's consideration.

Supt. Joe Dan Gold said four suggested names that seemed to have the most support thus far include Index Elementary, Daniel Morgan Elementary, Little Caney Elementary, and Morgan Central Elementary.

Gold said the board will continue to accept suggestions for a name for the school until its next regular meeting on Nov. 7. Persons wishing to suggest names for the new school may submit them by calling Kim Lockard at the Superintendent's Office, phone 743-8002.

In other action, the board authorized Sharon Cottle, district food service director, to have parents of students with delinquent lunch payments cited to small claims court.

Supt. Gold said between $4,000.00 and $5,000.00 in delinquent lunch payments are outstanding, with some owing as much as $250.00. He said the Technology Center pgm. provides provides computers to area schools

Tech skills of students at Elliott Co. High, Morgan Tech Cent. being utilized

WEST LIBERTY, Ky. – October 5—The Morgan County Regional Technology Center recently initiated a computer refurbishing program to recycle computers into local schools and to individuals through various programs at the Center. Porter Dailey, Director of the Regional Technology Center, said, “This program is somewhat unique in that we will rely on students at the Morgan County Area Technology Center and Elliott County High Schools’ CompTIAA+ Certification program to perform the actual refurbishing of the computers.”

According to Dailey, a non-profit foundation was created earlier in the year to support the educational and economic development outreach mission of the Center. “We are in the process of being designated a Microsoft Authorized Refurbisher.” Dailey said. “With that designation we’ll be able to re-license the machines and extend the useful life of the computers by donating them to schools or providing them to individuals through programs planned at the Center.”

To date, the Center has received over 130 computers, Dailey said. Morehead State University has provided the greatest number of computers.

“The MSU donated computers are of such quality that they’ve been targeted for placement in local public school classrooms and labs,” according to Darren Ferguson, Technology Coordinator at the Technology Center. Center Foundation Chair Hank Allen added, “We are very appreciative of Morehead State’s contribution of computers for our project. Their contribution was a huge jump start for this initiative.”

Dailey expressed appreciation to Elliott County Schools Technology Coordinator Randy Evans and Morgan County Area Technology Center’s Nathan Frederick for their guidance and participation in setting up the refurbishing program at their respective schools. “We’re fortunate to have individuals and schools in the area that are looking for unique opportunities to advance student technology skills,” Dailey added.

According to Frederick, “This is an excellent project and a win win situation for Morgan County. Our students can learn the intricacies of computer repair and many of the computers they refurbish are going to end up being used by a Morgan County student.”

The Center has been soliciting donations from public and private sector agencies of their surplus computers. For additional information, call Porter Dailey or Darren Ferguson at 606-743-4005.

God Bless America

Dear Heavenly Father, we continue to be thankful for the privilege we have of reading your holy word, though we are filled with despair from many earthly troubles.

Let the sun shine on our path that we may not stumble.

Your scriptures are a good road map for mankind if we travel by your directions. Lord, we know our purpose here is to serve and obey you while helping give light to those that sit in darkness. Dear Lord, lately our burdens have become difficult as we encounter hostility and uncertainty in our nation and the world.

We need your presence, Lord, as we struggle to do our best.

The leaders of our nation need your guidance, Lord; we pray you will direct their paths in a way that is best for all concerned.

We pray your tender mercies will be with the military personnel in all their undertakings; keep them in the shelter of your arms.

Heavenly Father, walk with us and give us courage to deal with the sounds of fury and madness that overshadow the safety and peace of our nation.

Help us to understand and be more tolerant of those who hate our freedoms. May our light shine.

We pray the storm clouds will move out as we thank you, Lord, for our blessings during this season of thanksgiving, and hope and pray for peace on earth and good will toward men.

In Jesus’ name, we pray. Amen.

I WANT TO KNOW

I want to plant a tree and always know
That I can live and wait to see it grow
To grow and fruit and then to know its taste
To ever know my work is not a waste
I want to see my house rise up among the verdant trees
To see the early morning sun, to feel the evening breeze
I want to hear the joyous shouts of family and friends
I want them all to know with me
The life that never ends

Don Battles, Deputy Warden of Programs, presents Employee of the Month Award to Cheryl Cravens.

EKCC Employee of the Month

The Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex Employee of the Month for September is Ms. Cheryl Cravens. Ms. Cravens began her career in Corrections at EKCC in November 1989 as a Secretary in the Programs Department. She was promoted to Administrative Secretary in September 2003 and is currently Secretary for the Deputy Warden of Programs.

Said Warden John Motley, “Ms. Cravens’ work ethic and professional efforts are tireless and set an example pace for all those within the Programs area to follow. Her leadership qualities are admirable and have been proven during recent staff transitions affecting the Deputy Warden of Programs’ reassignment and resulting restructuring. She has provided that unique and seamless consistency that is required during this institutional administrative transition. She is a deserving recipient of the Employee of the Month Award.”

Congratulations on a job well done!

Employee of the Month at EKCC

The Employee of the Month for August at Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex is Mr. Mike Stamper. Mr. Stamper began his career in Corrections as a Correctional Officer at Kentucky State Reformatory in August 2000 and transferred to EKCC in April 2004.

“Officer Stamper has a vast amount of knowledge in Correctional policies and procedures,” said Warden John Motley. “He has demonstrated the highest regard for the security of the institution; he consistently and successfully completes his duties with little or no supervision, and exhibits a high level of professionalism. Officer Stamper is a very deserving recipient of the employee of the month award.

Congratulations on a job well done!

—Agree Or Not—

Yet Another Challenge

By Todd Duvall

FRANKFORT — It has been 15 years since the General Assembly enacted a top-to-bottom reform of Kentucky's system of public education on orders of the Kentucky Supreme Court.

Less than 10 years remain before the goals set by the 1990 Kentucky Education Reform Act — every school performing at a high level of proficiency as judged by student achievement — are to be met.

The problem is that in the last five years especially, as revenue shortfalls plagued both the Patton and Fletcher administrations through a succession of budgets, many of the facets of the reform act aimed at helping schools meet their achievement goals have failed by the wayside.

*Monetary rewards for schools that show the most improvement from one testing period to the next disappeared early on.

*A program to identify superior teachers and send them into classrooms in most need of help met the budget ax.

*So, too, family resource centers in schools to help parents and their children overcome the kinds of problems that can impact adversely a student's classroom performance.

But the goals remain nevertheless and have been supplemented by the achievement requirements of the federal No Child Left Behind Act.

And still there are, year after year, individual schools that simply cannot make decent progress to achieving the levels of proficiency the 1990 reform act envisioned.

The State Board of Education is considering a plan that would require serious state-level intervention into those schools chronically trailing behind in both state and federal requirements.

Gov. Ernie Fletcher, who made a rare appearance before the Board last week, endorsed that tougher stance.

"We have to hold our local schools accountable. There's no question," Fletcher said.

Under the plan the Board could adopt at its December meeting, schools failing both the No Child Left Behind goals and the state proficiency goals would face tougher penalties, including state intervention to provide a "highly skilled principal" or other master educators to work at improving student performance. Professional development among a school's teachers would be emphasized, and superintendents and principals would have to undergo leadership training.

State Educational Commissioner Gene Wilhoite placed responsibility for success or failure on the adults in schools. Some of the best performing schools have been those in poor areas, with limited resources and students from low-income families.

Clearly, if those schools can succeed, other similar schools can as well. But a truly effective program of intervention in failing schools will cost money, something decidedly in short supply in recent years. There have to be better incentives for top-notch principals and teachers to take on the heavy responsibility of rescuing a failing school. And if that failing school lacks certain resources, they must be provided.

Initially, the plan may apply to only 35 individual schools, presumably those at risk of never catching up to the achievement levels of other schools in the state. However, if those 35 schools can be rescued successfully under the plan, the State Board of Education, Wilhoite and educators will know they finally have hit on a formula that works.

But there also must be a firm commitment from Fletcher and the General Assembly that the intervention program will have the state funding it needs to prove itself over time.

The clock is ticking toward 2014, and it is far too late to begin scrimping on funds necessary to help the most threatened schools reach their goals.

Otherwise yet another good idea with the best intentions will fall by the wayside for lack of money, while scarce state tax revenues are used to lard budgets with construction projects of dubious value or new programs of questionable worth.

you have a dog that has puppies and you have trouble finding homes for them, then use the spay and neuter program. Both vet clinics can assist you in this endeavor.

We do have grant monies in place for an animal shelter, and we are still working through the paper work to get it up and operational.

Comment or Question this week: Question: We appreciate the fact that the county has new and improved equipment. Could you explain how this has become possible with the limited funds that the county has available?

Answer: As noted in last week's article, working with the county magistrates and the connections that we have with Democrat and Republican leaders in state and federal government has been the key to open the funding doors. (We have not raised county taxes since I have been County Judge Executive). We have purchased new equipment, including an excavator, two new pick-up trucks, and have on order new garbage boxes, and state coal severance monies funded all. The cost to the county taxpayers is 0. Other purchased equipment includes: road grader, backhoe, dump trucks, snow removal equipment, tractors/brush cutters, etc. These were funded through a Kentucky Association of Counties lease payment program. Then we entered into an agreement with State Transportation Cabinet for a pilot program project in the amount of $150,000.00 for snow/ice removal and roadside mowing. This money allows us to pay the lease payment, so county citizens are not footing the bill for the new equipment.

RECALLS FORMER TEACHER AND COACH

Dear Earl,

I am deeply appreciative of the article you wrote and the excellent job you did capturing the essence of my childhood and the difficulties rural children of my age encountered in getting an education in Morgan County. I was so pleased that you devoted significant copy in the article to Edwin Benton, my elementary teacher. Edwin was such a powerful influence on my life, plus he is just a great human being.

I also would like to mention another former Morgan County teacher and coach who was influential in my life: Merle Nickell. Thanks to Merle, I had the opportunity to play for two years on the MCHS baseball team.

Dear Editor,

We look forward to W. Lynn Nickell's "Old News Journal" of abstracted news items from old issues of The Licking Valley Courier. We are intimately acquainted with such a project as we have undertaken to do the same with The Hazel Green Herald and The Wolfe County News.

Of course, we hope Lynn will mention news and sports scores he may find about Hazel Green Academy. Before county schools were consolidated, HGA and West Liberty had strong rivalries in baseball and basketball.

PRINCIPAL REQUESTS SUPPORT FOR S.O.S.

Any nonprofit organization has the opportunity to earn free equipment by collecting cash register tape from West Liberty IGA. This register tape collection program called S.O.S. (Support Our Schools) will allow us to collect up to 1% for every West Liberty IGA cash register tape that we turn in. This money will allow us to purchase everything from computers, textbooks, teaching aids, athletic equipment, etc.

We encourage you to save West Liberty IGA cash register tapes (beginning October 2, 2005, through April 1, 2006) and send them to our school. Together, we can improve the quality of our children's education while easing the financial burden on our school. Cash register tapes may be collected from West Liberty IGA store.

Sincerely,
Darren Sparkman, Principal

A DISGRACE

I am writing as concerned parent and citizen of Morgan County. Last Friday evening, I was never so ashamed of our county as I was that night. With the weather dishing out not a pouring rain but a light, misty, foggy, bone-chilling rain and to see at half time the guest boys having nowhere to get out of the rain. Over the years, I have heard parents with numerous complaints about the announcer's booth, to no guest (visitor) room, to the umpires having to change in the cheerleaders' room in the Den, to no seats on the other side of the field for guests to sit separate from Morgan County fans.

I think I have a solution to fix all three problems, or if not all three, start with the most pressing—the visitor locker room and the announcer's building. To do this, we would need to update present announcer booth (the ceiling/floor for the filming crew to stand on) then add on to the right of the booth for visiting teams, add onto the left for officials, and then put bleachers on top of the new additions for visitors to sit. Yes, I know I am talking a lot of money; however, we would not like for our boys to do what we are asking the boys on the visiting team to do.

I feel that I can speak for a large number of citizens when I say that I would be willing to do whatever we can to get this done right away. I am proud to say that I feel our boys will go farther this year than last year's team and I think by working on the field conditions we show not only the boys and coaches, but the community of our pride. I feel that there has to be funding somewhere for these much needed improvements. I know the school board must share funding equally with all athletic programs, but may I say that I am now aware of any baseball, boys/girls basketball, volleyball, girls softball team, or any other sport in Morgan County that does not have a changing room/dug out for the visiting team.

It was a disgrace how the other team had to huddle together outside Friday night.

Tami O. Adkins,
West Liberty

To the Citizens of Morgan County

We, the former commissioners of the Morgan County Water District, would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the citizens of Morgan County for allowing us to serve you and to play a major role in providing water line extensions to a large portion of the county.

To date, there are approximately 206 miles of water lines in the ground in Morgan County and the District has a customer base of 1,796 per last month's billing. We feel that this is a major accomplishment since the District has only been in existence for 16 years. We have been very aggressive in seeking funds and extending water lines to a large number of citizens. We realize there are many more households that need water lines extended into their areas. It is our sincere hope that our successors will be able to continue to obtain funding and install lines to those areas that are still without drinking water that is safe and clean.

At this time, $3.3 million has been committed for two projects that will add more than 50 miles of additional water lines to our existing district. With these additional funds, more than $14 million have been invested in the Morgan County Water District since its inception. We feel proud to have been a part of this process and accorded the opportunity to volunteer our time for the betterment of our beloved community. Our reward has been the satisfaction of seeing the lives of our fellow citizens improved greatly through their access to quality water.

It has been a pleasure to have served the citizens of this county and it is our heartfelt desire to see all the citizens of Morgan County obtain good clean water.

Sincerely,
Earl Reed

"Where the Past is Always Present"

June 27, 1939

Work to start on the West Liberty Water works project Monday, June 26, 1939. Cost will be $126,151, of which cost the W.P.A. is to pay $73,249 and the city $52,902. The project is expected to employ about 100 men for one year. Water lines will be 8-6-and 4 inches. There will be 25 fire hydrants, all on not less than 4" connections. The city water will be taken from Licking River about 300 ft. above the mouth of Long Branch. Rates will be:

Minimum per month up to 1,000 gal.—$1.25
Second 1,000 gal.—$1.00
Third 1,000 gal.—.75
Fourth 1,000 gal.—.60
Above 5,000 gal. and up to 10,000 gal. .40 cents

In this connection we earnestly appeal once more to all citizens to be saving with the present water supply—all barn and lawn outlets should be closed.

Writer's note: I thought it would be interesting to compare our present water rates in West Liberty with those in 1939. Our present rates are as follow:

First 2,000 gal.—$11.00
Next 3,000 gal.—$4.50
Next 5,000 gal.—$3.75
Over 10,000 gal.—$3.20

Work has started on the West Liberty Water Works project. The first thing that has to be done was to move the house occupied by Norman Sheets and owned by Sam Franklin to a new location. The filtration and purifying plant and the pump house will be located on a lot 75 by 80 feet. Practically all the labor on both building and lines will be done with W. P. A. labor. Dozens have asked for jobs. Jobs that will get you on a payroll are now available. All the work will be by W. P. A. labor except highly specialized trained work.

New Store to Open: Scott's Department Clothing Store will open soon in the J. L. Blair building over the printing office. J.(Jim) D. Davis moved here from Richmond and will be in charge. West Liberty is the fourth store in the Scott chain. Other stores are in Paintsville, Prestonsburg, and Cumberland.

N.Y.A. sidewalk appreciated: The N. Y. A. sidewalk project sponsored by the citizens of West Liberty and under the supervision of Davis Smith has been a great service to both the youth employed and to the community of West Liberty. When the project began there were only a few sidewalks in West Liberty. The twenty four boys participating in the project now can enter private business and other youths can receive the same training.

N. Y. A. Project nearing completion: The N.Y.A. Girls Dormitory Project at West Liberty sponsored by the Board of Education and supervised by Glenn Carr of Ezel is nearing completion. The building has a concrete basement and is two stories. Twenty eight youths are working on the project and are receiving excellent training in concrete and building. The building is situated on the campus of the new stone building erected a few years ago by the W. P. A. It will be of great service to girls in the rural area who desire to attend school at West Liberty.

Writer's note: This building was built where the present superintendent's office is located today. It was built to be a Home Economics building and was used as such, although it was used to teach some NYA classes for a short time, but was never used as a girls dormitory.

tory. The building later housed the Home Economics department downstairs and the superintendent's office upstairs. This building was later torn down and the present superintendent's office building built.

July 9, 1936

Postmaster Lynn B. Wells bought 35 feet out of the middle of the lot between the Henry (Everett) Garage and the Blair (J. L.) building on Main St., running the whole depth of the lot and will at once let a contract for the construction of a post office building. The old building is insufficiently lighted and artificial light is required almost entirely. The new building will be equipped with windows and will open directly to the street.

Writers note: This building is the Paul Franklin Barber Shop building now owned by Sally May. It was moved from its construction site to the Main St. Park lot in 1938 to make room for the Rex Theater building built that year. The building was used as a post office until 1955. I began working with the Postal Service as a Rural Route carrier the same year. J. Wendell Nickell, postmaster, Jay Burton, Graham Burton, and Chalmers Allen were working in the post office when I started July 1, 1955. In the fall of that year we moved to the new building (across from McKenzie's Grocery) presently owned by the Bank of the Mountains.

stealing from an auto parts store in West Liberty. Haney pleaded guilty to a felony burglary charge and was sentenced to five years probation.

Nickell wrote in a pretrial sentencing report that the crime was Haney's first felony or misdemeanor conviction and recommended that he meet with his probation officer once a month.

Haney's strengths included "his youth and good health, family support, and lack of any criminal behavior," Nickell said.

Haney's parents saw a different side of their son.

After the burglary, he dropped out of Morgan County High School, began staying out late at night, and admitted to them that he was using marijuana and other drugs.

Marniece Haney said she urged her son to stay home, but he had become combative and managed to slip out. She said she and her husband considered taking out a warrant against their son but didn't know how to do it.

On April 28, at his meeting with Nickell, Haney tested positive for marijuana, according to his probation file.

Marniece Haney said she begged Nickell to have her son arrested.

"We knew something bad was going to happen," she said.

When Haney failed a second test for marijuana July 5, Nickell made plans to admit Haney to Lane House, a drug treatment center, according to records obtained by Haney's parents.

In August, after the third failed drug test, Nickell issued his final warning. It was too late.

That Sunday, Haney was with several friends when he fatally overdosed.

"No parents should ever have to go through this," said Haney's father, David Haney. "And it never would have happened if they had just listened to what we were saying."

Judge Executive

Hello from the Judge's Office. I had a visitor in my office a few days ago — his name is M a g o o

Bowman, a young puppy who appreciates a government that is working with the Helping Hands Board to provide a safe, cost effective way to deal with our stray dogs. We are working closely with both of our veterinary clinics to provide a place to take our stray dogs.

State law requires us some obligation. Helping Hands steps up to the plate and provides some additional services, such as adoption, spay and neuter programs, education about caring for your pet, etc. In the past three years we have seen a decrease in strays and an increase in unwanted pets. If

Margaret Stacy Circle meeting conducted Oct. 3

The monthly meeting of the Margaret Stacy Circle of the United Methodist Church was held on Monday, October 3. Brother Garry Jones opened the meeting with a prayer and then introduced the guest speaker, Father Jerry Dorn, from the West Liberty Catholic Church.

Father Dorn began by telling us a little about himself. He is from Minnesota and is from a family of nine children. His father owned a large farm and they worked all the time, so he decided he wanted to do something else. He has been a Catholic priest for 42 years. He has moved seven times and each time has been hard, but he has been blessed each time. He is now over the church in West Liberty and Owingsville. Father Dorn then told us that the Catholic Church is interested in religion, justice, and fairness. The power of the church is with the people. The Pope, the cardinals, and others take care of political and monetary matters. The priests take care of the churches.

Father Bishop started Catholic churches in rural areas in the south in 1939. Priests were sent from Cincinnati to Kentucky and other southern states to build churches. The Glenmary Home Missions was started and they are involved in such things as the Habitat for Humanities, helping people in need, and building churches where they are needed.

Father Dorn said that there are 74 churches in Morgan County and even though we are different, we need to try to become one in God.

We watched a short video of the things that the Glenmary Home Missioners are involved in and then Father Dorn answered questions from the group. It was a very interesting program.

Jonell then opened the business part of the meeting. The minutes from last month's meeting were read. Anita Hunley then gave the treasurer's report. Jenni Ison then discussed arrangements for the Halloween party which will be October 31st. We also discussed the election of new officers. Plans for the Christmas bazaar were discussed and Jenni Ison and Kara Elam said they would be responsible for it this year and give Lois Smith and Anita Hunley a break this year.

Father Dorn said blessing and we enjoyed the food that Barbara Ison prepared with help from Jenni Ison. Attending the meeting were guest speaker Father Jerry Dorn, Brother Garry Jones, Helen Jones, Jonell Tobin, Jenni Ison, Lois Smith, Wilma Faulkner, Brenda Smith, Anna Jean Allen, Anita Hunley, Georgia Stamper, Barbara Ison, Sallie May, Kara Elam, and Judy Elam.

Cut two 1/4-inch slices from a loaf of unsliced white bread. Cut each slice crosswise into six 1-inch strips. Roll each stick in melted butter. Arrange in baking pan. Sprinkle with garlic salt, grated Parmesan cheese, sesame or poppy seeds and bake in a 375 degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes, turning to brown on all sides. That's a quick way to have almost-home-made breadsticks.

Lenox

By Estelle Caskey

Oct. 10--Mrs. Dallas Barker, Mrs. Janice Bates and Jessie were in Lexington last Sunday calling on Miss Mickie Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Barker, of Greenup, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trimble and family.

Was very sorry to hear that imogene and Avery Vest are on the sick list.

Garrison Lee Ratliff, of Morehead, spent Sorghum Festival weekend here with his grandmother, Mrs. Joyce Ferguson, and his aunt, Mrs. Della Banks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Garrack Ratliff, and Parker Banks were shopping in Lexington a few days ago.

Mrs. Goldie Cox is seriously ill.

Mrs. Estelle Caskey and Louise called on Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Stamper last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. June Whitt had business in Morehead one day last week.

We were saddened to hear of the passing of Joyce Wright, formerly of Morgan County, and Mrs. Mattie Perry, of West Liberty. Our deepest sympathy is extended to all who have lost loved ones.

Ariel Frederick releases gospel CD

Ariel Frederick

People who know seventeen year old Ariel Frederick have known of her amazing talents for several years. She has a powerful voice, plays the piano and writes her own songs. Ariel recorded her first cd entitled "Alive and Well", in which she wrote thirteen of the fourteen songs, the cd was released early in August 2005.

Ariel was reluctant to sing in public for a long time but, as she will tell you, God led her to understand He had given her these precious gifts so she would use them to honor and worship Him. After she understood God's will, she hasn't stopped. She is a very active member of Grace Baptist Church, she sings and plays piano solo and with the church Praise and Worship Team, she also organized and teaches several of her peers sign language to gospel music in a ministry called Hands of Praise and is a member of the group, Sacred.

Ariel is the daughter of Anthony and Angie Frederick and has an older brother, Chase. She is a senior at Morgan County High School and plans to attend Morehead State University, majoring in pharmacy with a minor in Spanish translation and she also will pursue her music career.

Copies of Ariel's cd can be purchased at Walls of Grace, Headquarters, The Mustard Seed, New Image and Merle Norman. For more information on the cd or to read Ariel's testimony, go to www.ariel.biz

Thank you, Wells Group, LLC

Mayor Bob Nickell and the City of West Liberty would like to take this opportunity to say "Thank You" to The Wells Group for their assistance with the Sorghum Festival. The Wells Group provides the concrete barriers for Main Street every year during the Festival. The concrete barriers help protect pedestrians as well as the craft booths on Main Street.

Once again, thank you to the Wells Group!

Only My Opinion!

Richard Stamper

For anyone out there who doesn't know it, I'm a Native American. My Tribe never was a large or a very powerful clan. Most people never heard of us. We weren't very warrior like, we never fought anyone. We only tried to survive when attacked. We just tried to get by as best we could.

I'm a member of the Hop E Wem Akeit Tribe. As the last of the Mohawks died, we got by. Through bad harvest and cold winters, somehow we members of Native Americans of the Hop E Wem Akeit Tribe lived.

A few of us starved to death, some of us died in war for our nation. For over 200 years, we fought to survive as a People, a Tribe, a Nation of Native Americans.

Now we are the largest Tribe in America. Some of us are Red. Some of us are Black or White. Some of my tribe are Brown or Yellow skinned.

My Tribe is German, Irish, Jew, Italian, Indian, French, English, Dutch and a lot more.

I'm a Native American and so are you. We all live here in America. We're all a member of the same Tribe. The "Hope We Make It Tribe".

Through rising prices, inflation, increasing violent crime, drugs and divorce. Through hurricanes and floods, we Native Americans can survive. Because we are "Hope We Can Make It" Tribe Members.

People who not only survive, but prosper in adversity.

Us Native Americans will make it.

Stand up proud together, as The Tribe of Americans.

Poetry.com to help Red Cross assist Hurricane Katrina

OWINGS MILLS, Md.—Poetry.com and The International Library of Poetry have announced that they will donate one dollar ($1.00) to the American Red Cross for every poem they receive during the month of September. Company spokesperson, Eric Mueck, said, "Our board of directors has decided to focus all of our charitable efforts on helping the people affected by Hurricane Katrina. The American Red Cross is our nation's premier emergency response organization, and we are confident that they will put our money to good use."

All poetry received will be entered into the International Open Amateur Poetry Contest, where over $1,000,000.00 has been awarded to amateur poets.

"We welcome all types of poetry," stated Howard Ely, Managing Editor for poetry.com. "When people learn about our donation, they will suddenly realize that their own poetic works can make a difference, as well as gain national recognition. In fact, we are already receiving thousands of poems expressing personal feelings about this tragic disaster."

To enter, send one original poem, any subject and any style to: The International Library of Poetry, Suite 19923, 1 Poetry Plaza, Owings Mills, MD 21117. The poem must be 24 lines or less, and the poet's name and address should appear

October—National Coop Month

Cooperatives are often the most visible businesses in rural Kentucky communities. Their presence may not be as obvious in larger metropolitan areas, but in rural communities they touch the lives of many families and individuals. In the Mountain Telephone area alone, we have approximately 78 employees scattered throughout our 4 county territory which includes: Elliott, Menifee, Morgan, Wolfe and a portion of Bath Counties. It's hard to find someone who does not have a connection, such as a relative or friend, who works for a cooperative.

Mountain Telephone serves nearly 14,000 members and returns an estimated $1,000,000 in Capital Credits each year. Our members are our owners. Keeping this in mind, we know it is our responsibility to provide the best in phone service, the best internet service, the best technology has to offer and just simply the best all around communications service that we can give our people.

Cooperatives play major roles in area schools, sports and community activities. Mountain Telephone is active in our public schools by participating in Reality Stores, Career Days, Dr. Suess Reading Days, Senior Finance Planning, and many more. Plus, a number of employees are active as Youth Group leaders, Chess Team coaches, sports coaches and community leaders. Each year, Mountain Telephone participates in and/or supports local Relay for Life events. So you see, we don't just speak of communities, we're right there with you, working beside you.

These are only a fraction of the many ways a cooperative enhances, not only the territory they serve, but the people as a whole. Undoubtedly, Mountain Telephone truly is ...

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory Of

Christina M. George

Dec. 6, 1984 • Oct. 18, 2004

If we could have a life time wish,
One dream that would come true,
We'd pray to God with all our hearts

For yesterday and you.

Now we think of you in silence,
And often speak your name
All we have left are memories,
And your picture in a frame.

You left behind broken hearts,
And happy memories, too
But we never wanted memories,
We only wanted you.

Now our hearts are filled with sadness,
And our silent tears still flow
What it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.

Oct. 10--Hi everyone. Hope all the sick are feeling better. To all who have lost loved ones you have my prayers.

I extend sympathy to Lou Shepherd's family. I've known Lou and her family most of my life. Lou was such a good friend and neighbor. May God bless you all in your time of sorrow.

I saw Mrs. James Harper at the funeral home. She is not feeling good at all. She is so greived over her sister, Faye Morris. Della, you have my love and prayers. I wish I could do something. All I can do is pray.

We were at the Sorghum Festival and saw lots of my friends. Sure was a good parade. My little granddaughter, Shelby Dennison, and her group won first place on cheerleading. They were so sweet.

To the Keeton family, you all have our sympathy. May God bless you all.

We were at our daughter, Stephanie's for Shelby's birthday party. We had lots of food, cake, and ice cream. She got lots of gifts and money, and pictures were taken. She is a darling. We love her so much.

Happy birthday to all who have birthdays in September.

We were in church with Pearl Shearer at Old 519 Full Gospel Church, where Denver Mayabb was having a revival. We saw Dorman there. He is looking better after being so sick. I was proud to see him. We had a good service.

May God bless everyone everywhere until next time.

Go to church somewhere.

POEM

I said a prayer for you today and I know God must have heard
I felt the answer in my heart
although He spoke no word.
I asked for happiness for you in all things, great and small. But it was His loving care I prayed for most of all.

Junction News

By Kathy Bolin

Oct. 10--Greetings from the Junction.

Well, I suppose I will start off with the wedding that was last week at Tom's Branch. The members of the church decided to throw a surprise wedding on Pastor Jeff Montgomery and wife, Lenny. On Saturday evening, Jeff and Lenny were lured to the church by members that had planned the ceremony. The church was decorated with the traditional flowers and candle and parents of the bride and groom were present. The Montgomerys had no idea of the ceremony until they walked into their church and were surrounded by the traditional wedding decor. Members then revealed that they would be renewing their vows that evening. I was told that Jeffery tried to slip out the back door, not really, but I bet the thought might have crossed his mind. Cold feet you know. tom Coder performed the ceremony. All in all it was a good time.

Cole Adkins, grandson of Billy Wayne and Jocelyn Bolin, of Coffee's Creek, had a birthday celebration this weekend. The theme a John Deer party. Cole has spent many days this past summer helping his papaw on the farm tending to tobacco and riding a tractor every chance he could. I'm sure that is where he discovered his love for tractors. Happy birthday, Cole. Another birthday Heather Gamble, she too, is a resident of Coffee's Creek. Co-workers made sure I knew that she was going to be 34. happy birthday Heather. April Vest will be celebrating her 17th birthday. She is the daughter of Mike and Pam Vest and lives over on Laurel Fork. One more, McKenzie Mays, daughter of co-worker Lisa Williams celebrated a birthday. I think she was 7, but don't hold me to that one. I am just guessing.

The final news this week was our all day gospel singing at Williams Creek Elfork Church. As usual we had a terrific time enjoying the day with brothers and sisters of the Lord. Revival will also be this week nightly at 7 p.m.

I am going on a horse ride this coming week at Rudy's Ranch with the Kentucky Natural Gaited Horse Association. Usually I have a good horse tale to tell after one of my excursions, we'll see.

Bye-Bye.

Caleb May, Sr., Magoffin County founder

Caleb May was born April 1, 1781, died April 11, 1829. Standing by the graves of their great-great-great-great grandfather, Caleb, and great-great-great-great grandmother, Margaret Patrick May, are Charles Dalton May, left, and Nicholas Gage May, right, sons of Charles Earl May and Denise May of Hazard, Kentucky. They are the grandsons of Earl May, Jr. and Mary Elizabeth May of Campton and Ray and Bobbie Goodson of Hazard.

The original marker also shown was replaced by a modern marker by the Magoffin County Historical Society. The cemetery is located on Highway 460 in Magoffin County and is called the Caleb and James May Cemetery. James may is thought to be a brother of Caleb

Caleb was born on April 1, 1781, and died April 11, 1829. Margaret was born February 9, 1783, and died December 13, 1861. To this union were born 10 children. Caleb was one of the founders of Magoffin County. He was born five years after the Declaration of Independence was signed, and died 32 years before the Civil War. He was also living when George Washington was President of the United States.

Dalton and Gage's grandfather, Earl May, Jr., resides in Campton, their great-grandfather, Earl May, Sr., is buried in the White Oak Cemetery in Morgan County. Their great-great grandfather, Thomas May, is also buried in the White Oak Cemetery. Their great-great-great grandfather, Allen May, is buried in the Allen Cemetery, also at White Oak in Morgan County. The grave site of their great-great-great-great grandfather, John May, is unknown, with their great-great-great-great grandfather, Caleb, buried in the Caleb and James May Cemetery in Magoffin County as previously stated.

Licking Valley RECC

A Touchstone Energy Cooperative

Dear Members:

The price of energy is rising in every part of the country, and our community is no exception. Whether it's gas, natural gas, electricity or coal, the increase is affecting us all.

Recently, you may have noticed that your electric bill is higher. There are two reasons for this. First, we're required to pay our power supplier more for the coal we burn to make electricity. Second, we now have additional costs to meet government clean air standards.

As a not-for-profit co-op, Licking Valley RECC doesn't make anything from these added charges. And while we can't control the cost of fuel, one of our Touchstone Energy Living programs, including free energy audits, could help reduce your bill.

There are other things you can do to save money. For a free copy of our Simple Savings energy tips, stop by our office or call 606-743-3179.

We understand that these increases are difficult. Your neighbors at Licking Valley RECC are ready to help in any way that we can.

Sincerely,
Bill Duncan
General Manager/CEO

Benefit Horse Show Oct. 29 for Tike Skaggs

A benefit horse show to raise funds to help with medical expenses for Tike Skaggs will be held at the Horse Park on Liberty Road Saturday, Oct. 29. Show time is 5:00 p.m.

Skaggs, of Ky. 172, lost his right leg and his left leg was severely damaged in a dozer accident while working in the log woods in the Malone area about two months ago.

Surgeons at Cabell-Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W.Va., have reattached his severed leg and he is now recuperating at his home. He is expected to be disabled for many months.

Bring your horse and rider and enjoy the competition while helping a neighbor.

Get Ready. Company's Coming: The Secret Weapon for Home Town Businesses

By Larrey Riddle

It's a problem facing small businesses across the country. How does a small business compete with large chain mega-stores? Don't kid yourself, either. The Wal-Marts of the world want to take your customers. They are counting on people getting in their cars and driving sixty, seventy, or even one hundred miles to shop with them. With vast purchasing power and national advertising budgets the size of the GNP of small nations, it is difficult to compete. Make that extremely difficult.

Local businesses do have a secret weapon, however. By providing Excellent Customer Service, you can make people want to do business with you. A well-planned and well-communicated campaign can make a real and viable impact on your bottom line. It requires every employee to practice it with every customer. The goal of customer service is to make it easy for people to do business with you.

Here are seven strategies for providing excellent customer service:

1. Treat old customers like new ones and new customers like old friends.

Make every person who walks into your shop or office feel they are appreciated. Make it personal. Start with every employee saying hello. In a small town, where customers are known to staff, use their name. Thank them for their business. Make sure employees (and management!) leave the closest parking spaces for their customers.

It is much more expensive to find a new customer than to keep a regular customer and have them return. A lot more effort goes into landing a new customer. It is natural to take old, established customers for granted. You expect them to do business with you. That is an attitude that can lead to losing their business. Why? Because you leave yourself open to competitors who are looking at the customer the way you did when you first started out.

2. Train your staff.

Some employees are just naturally friendly and would make the effort, even if you don't expect it of them. Hold on to those employees. They are the exception. Be clear about employee behavior. Explain why providing customer service is important. What does your company provide that makes life easier for everyone? What does your product or service add?

New employees are the most important. Talk about excellent customer service when you interview them. Your orientation program is an integral part of the ultimate success of your customer service efforts.

Of course, you will be wasting your breath with front line employees if management does not follow the same rules. A culture of excellent customer service must start with top management. Everyone must realize they work for the customer.

3. Recognize individual efforts.

Employees will always appreciate cash awards, but non-cash incentives can work equally well. Start staff meetings with "tales from the front line" with staff recounting examples of how they helped make customers happy.

4. Encourage feedback.

Some people are afraid to ask customers about the service they received. They are afraid they might hear something bad. Fact: If the customer has something bad to say about the service they received, you had better be the first to hear about it. If you are not, you can be sure other people will. When you hear something bad, find the underlying cause of it and let the customer know how the problem was resolved. When you hear something good, ask for referrals.

Publicize good comments. I once visited a gift shop where the owners had printed great customer comments on their tissue wrapping paper, which they included in every shopping bag.

Provide many different ways for customers to respond. Ask employees directly. Put anonymous comment cards in a readily visible place. Integrate it into your website.

4. Measure Customer Service in these areas:

- Quality of product
- Speed of delivery
- Rate costs - affordability, competitiveness discounts, manufacture's incentives
- Rate of care - courtesy, professionalism, helpfulness, knowledge, ability to listen to and understand customer's needs
- To what extent are you willing to purchase from us again?
- Would you recommend this product/service to others?

• To what extent would you be willing to give feedback on our product/services

• What are we doing to delight you?

5. Establish customer-friendly policies.

Eliminate all routine and rigid policies and guidelines. Knock yourself out to make it easy to do business with your company. Every one of us has at one time or another been told, "Those are the rules. There's nothing I can do about it." Did you accept that line and walk away a happy customer?

6. Learn about your customers and educate them about your business.

The more you know about your customers, the better you can serve them. Likewise, if you provide a complicated service or product, you probably know a lot more about how it works than your customers. Look for ways to reduce their costs and you will have a satisfied customer for life.

7. Look at complaints as opportunities.

The customer that becomes irate about your service or product and lets you know about it is doing you a great favor. You have the chance to satisfy that customer and make sure they return to do business with you another day. The customer that does not let you know they are upset is the one who does your business real and lasting damage. First, they probably will not return. Secondly, you can be sure they will tell their friends about it.

When a customer begins to explain a problem, resist the tendency to become defensive. Listen. Most of the time, just having the opportunity to vent calms them down. Always ask the customer how he would like the problem resolved. If a customer is insistent about wanting a full or partial refund, it may be in your best interest to give it to him, even if it is not your policy to do so.

That is not to suggest that the customer is always right. But, don't rub his face in it. Instead, offer an explanation that focuses on helping the person avoid any similar situations in the future. You can still express regret that they had a negative experience with your company.

Excellent customer service requires hard work and continual effort. Its benefits make it well worth the time.—The Wolfe County News

Supplemental Notice to the Public of Kentucky Power Company RE: Proposed Changes to its Base Rates

Please Take Notice that on September 26, 2005 Kentucky Power Company (KPCo) filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission (the Commission) in Case No. 2005-00341 an Application pursuant to Chapter 278 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes for authorization to adjust the rates it charges its customers for service rendered on and after October 27, 2005. If approved, KPCo will apply the new rates to all customer bills rendered on and after October 27, 2005 to recover costs of providing service to its customers.

Conley graduates
Magna Cum Laude
at Eastern Ky. Univ.

Eastern Kentucky University recognized 619 graduates at the conclusion of the Summer 2005 semester.

Among those receiving degrees was a Morgan County student who graduated Magna Cum Laude.

He is Gregory Dean Conley, who received a BA degree in English.

He is the son of Ronnie and Debbie Conley of Lacy Creek.

Robert Louis Stevenson, in search of health, went to the South Seas to live. The natives fell in love with him. They built a road up the mountain to his home.

They called it, "The Road of the Loving Heart."

That's what the Lord has done for you. He has built a road to your heart.

He comes to give you strength for the day, rest for your labor, light for your way, grace for your trials, help from above, unfailing sympathy, undying love.

Today as He walks up "the road of the loving heart," receive Him, won't you?

Local high school students use photography to talk about their community

By Laura Hall

A group of teenagers at Morgan County High School recently participated in a project sponsored by the Kettering Foundation and the University of Kentucky College of Public Health. This project provided high schools students with cameras and asked them to document their community through photography.

Eighteen students in a Food Management course at Morgan County High School identified local assets and needs in Morgan County. During the project, they also uncovered many "problems" behind public health problems in the community. The pictures taken by the students covered an array of topics including the layout of the community, the importance of farming, and the natural beauty of the area. They also documented specific health concerns, including injury, heart disease, and obesity.

The students offered insight into the community atmosphere through their visual assessment, discussions, and narratives about the photographs. The pictures covered four broad categories: community life, community needs, public health problems, and community assets.

Until now, youth in Morgan County have not been involved in a community health needs as-essment. Their pictures and narratives provide a fresh perspective on the health conditions in Morgan County and an innovative approach to bring community members to discussions about their local community.

Considering that today's youths will be tomorrow's community leaders, their perspective is an important step to identifying and making necessary changes in Morgan County. Here is a glimpse of the student's stories told through the lens of a camera:

These are just a few photographs and stories shared by project participants. More photos and narratives will be displayed at health forums around Morgan County during the next few months. There will also be an exhibit of the photographs at the Morgan County Community Center later this year.

A special thanks is due to:

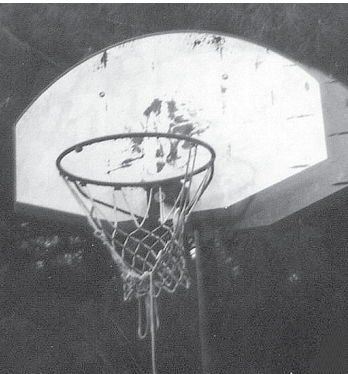

Lanny Franklin, Morgan County High School, Mrs. Shelia Lykins, and project participants: Shanna Barker, Lexy Gambill, Jonathan Havens, Heather Johnson, Tanisha Johnson, Amanda Jones, Megan Lewis, Haley Linkous, Erin Luebke, Kellie Maberry, Amanda McKenzie, Brittany Pack, Sara Perry, Geneva Ramey, Jacqueline Smith, Kinsey Whit, Angela Wright, Carressa Wright.

Park Playground and Church— a good thing about my community is that there are lots of churches and pretty parks. The community is family oriented.

Fruit Stand — This is a picture of fruit at a local grocery store. It represents healthy eating habits. Fruit is provided at our locally owned stores.

Basketball — This is a picture of my basketball goal and how old it is. We don't play with it anymore. If we played more, we would be healthier.

Garbage Dump — There is so much litter in our community. It can look so disgusting. Why would any industry ever want to move here? We need to clean the community up before businesses will come.

Old House — Our community is really safe... It is small and there are not too many people. Everyone knows who you are... It is peaceful and a good place to live.

Vegetarian Diets and Diabetes

Is a vegetarian diet good for people with diabetes? Since vegetarian diets generally contain less fat (including saturated fat) and cholesterol, and include more dietary fiber, they certainly have some advantages over non-vegetarian diets.

A vegetarian diet can:

- Reduce the risk of cardiovascular complications associated with diabetes
- Contribute to weight loss, which can improve type 2 diabetes in people who are overweight
- Help reduce cholesterol and triglyceride levels
- Make your body more responsive to insulin, according to some research

There are different types of vegetarian diets, however, and the degree to which you realize these benefits depends on the diet you choose:

- Vegan Strictly plant-based, it eliminates all animal-based foods including meat, fish, poultry, eggs and dairy products.
- Lacto-vegetarian Includes milk and milk products along with plant-based foods, but no eggs, meat, fish or poultry.
- Lacto-ovo vegetarian Includes eggs, milk and milk products (such as yogurt and cheese) and plant-based foods, but no meat, fish or poultry.

The more you restrict the foods you eat, however, the harder it is to get all the nutrients your body needs. For people with diabetes, adequate protein is essential for effective glucose control. So if you opt to eliminate eggs or dairy products from your diet along with meat, fish and poultry, be sure to include alternative protein sources such as soy products, legumes, lentils, meat substitutes, nuts, seeds and whole grains.

Vitamin B₁₂ is another vital nutrient found almost exclusively in animal products. If you take metformin for your diabetes, you are at greater risk of experiencing a decrease in vitamin B₁₂ absorption. Combine that with a decreased intake of B₁₂ from a vegetarian diet, and you could be at serious risk of a deficiency. You can get vitamin B₁₂ from fortified soy products and breakfast cereals, as well as supplements.

If you eliminate dairy products from your diet, calcium supplementation may help prevent osteoporosis.

Tips for Making the Switch to a Vegetarian Diet

- Start with one meat-free day per week, phasing out animal-based products gradually.
- Check out vegetarian cookbooks; surf the Internet for vegetarian recipes.
- Sample vegetarian cuisine at ethnic and vegetarian restaurants.
- Add more whole grains, legumes and vegetables to your meals while decreasing portion sizes of meat, poultry or fish.
- Familiarize yourself with vegetarian products at health food stores and your regular supermarket
- Most important: talk to a registered dietician to ensure an eating plan that supports good diabetes care.

Remember, if you have any questions or concerns about diabetes, talk to the pharmacist at a participating Diabetes Shoppe drug store. As a center of diabetes care, your Diabetes Shoppe offers the most comprehensive line of products and information available to help you better manage and "live well" with diabetes.

Ryan Buckler is inducted as UK Robinson Scholar

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 5— Ryan Douglas Buckner of West Liberty has been inducted into the University of Kentucky's Robinson Scholars Program. He was one of 29 middle school students from 29 Eastern Kentucky counties inducted into the scholarship program, which is now in its ninth year. He is the son of Tammy and Roy Buckler and attends Morgan County High School.

The Robinson Scholars Program provides full college tuition, room and board, and books during the college careers of students who otherwise would be financially unable to pursue a degree. The students must maintain an acceptable grade point average and graduate from high school to receive their scholarships.

Each scholarship carries a present-day value of more than $10,000.

The program is open to eighth graders from 29 Eastern Kentucky counties. Selection is based on each student's academic potential, essays and interviews. The family's need for assistance with college-related expenses also is taken into consideration. Students apply for consideration through their school guidance counselors. The students can use the scholarship to attend UK or any of Kentucky's community colleges.

The program is funded by earnings from coal mining and logging operations on nearly 4,000 acres of the 14,000-acre Robinson Forest in Breathitt, Perry and Knott counties, and by private support. The UK Board of Trustees established the program in 1995, utilizing the E.O. Robinson Trust to provide increased educational opportunities in Eastern Kentucky, where college attendance is historically low, compared to other regions of the state.

The Robinson Trust was established in 1922 by Edward O. Robinson, a logging magnate who gave the university 14,000 acres that had been logged by his firm. The trust carried a stipulation that it be used primarily for reforestation and agricultural research or for the benefit of the people of the mountain region.

Since the program began, 509 students have been inducted as Robinson Scholars.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Low Income Home Energy Assistance Pgm. begins Nov. 1

As Winter approaches, Gateway Community Services will begin the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), November 1, 2005, through December 9, 2005, in an effort to assist low-income residents with high utility bills. LIHEAP is a statewide initiative sponsored by the Kentucky Association of Community Action, Inc. in partnership with the Cabinet for Health and Family Services (CHFS).

Last year over 989 (families) residents of Morgan County received financial assistance and emergency services from the LIHEAP Subsidy component. Applications will be taken in alphabetical order with specific days assigned on the calendar. Applicants must present the following:

1. Most recent heating bill or verification that heating expenses are included in rent (i.e. lease agreements);
2. Social Security card of official documentation (medical card) with social security numbers for each member of the household;
3. Proof of all household income for the prior month;
4. Proof of housing type (lease, Section 8 certification, Housing Authority statement, deed or rent receipt); and
5. Proof of your 911 address (driver's license, piece of mail with your name and address, etc.)

Gateway Community Services located in West Liberty, KY (124 College Street) will be accepting applications Monday-Thursday from 8:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. You can contact them at (606) 743-3133.

Fall forest fire season opens Oct. 1

The fall forest fire hazard season began Oct. 1 in Kentucky. Until it ends Dec. 15, burning within 150 feet of a woodland or brush land is illegal from 6:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. daily. The last four fire seasons have been unusually light, and that has created a very heavy accumulation of fuel in our forests," said Leah Mac Swords, director of the Kentucky of Forestry, an agency of the Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet (EPPC). "In addition to the heavy accumulation of fuel, the current drought conditions could create a very dangerous situation," MacSwords said. "Citizens who live in and around our state's woodlands could create a very dangerous situation," MacSwords said. "Citizens who live in and around our state's woodlands should take extra precautions to ensure their property is safe from wildfire."

The national Firewise Communities Program recommends a 30-foot mowed buffer area around houses, hoses long enough to reach around houses, decks enclosed to keep out dried leaves, and firewood stacked away from houses. More Kentucky forest fires are set by arsonists. Suspected arsonists should be reported to the Target Arson Hotline at 1-800-27-ARSON, local law enforcement, or the Division of Forestry. Hotline callers can qualify for a cash reward if information leads to an arrest and indictment. Precautions should be taken and weather conditions considered before conducting outdoor burning.

Your Social Security

Questions and Answers

By Berbard O'Nan

Question: My oldest aunt told me that I have been named executor of her estate. Among the questions I have is this: when a Social Security beneficiary dies, does the funeral home notify Social Security or is notification up to the family?

Answer: Many funeral directors voluntarily provide death information directly to Social Security. But family members of a deceased individual still have the legal responsibility to notify Social Security.

Question: Can Social Security or Supplemental Income (SSI) program benefit payments be made to prisoners?

Answer: Both the Social Security and SSI programs prohibit payments to most prisoners. Benefits are suspended if an otherwise eligible person is confined in a jail, prison or other penal institution for more than 30 continuous days due to conviction

Cougars dominate Estill, 47-8 Lady Cougars volleyball team ends season with two victories, 23-8 record

Hall accounts for 13 TD's; Young runs for 102 yds., 2 scores

By David Patrick

Estill County may have scored first, but it was the Cougars that scored often enroute to a 47-8 blowout of the Engineers at Herdman Field last Friday.

On the game's opening possession, Estill County had no trouble moving the ball down the field while pulling out its bag of tricks. The Engineers scored a touchdown at the 9:20 mark and added a two point conversion for an early 8-0 lead. Morgan moved the ball with ease as well as Cougar quarterback Zeke Hall broke loose around left end and weaved his way to a 54 yard run. Derrick Young then finished off the scoring drive with a seven yard touchdown run. A successful extra point kick by Jerome Olsen pulled Morgan within a point, 8-7.

From there, the Cougars left no doubt who was the better team. With 4:59 remaining in the opening quarter, Devan Adkins took the pitch from Zeke Hall, broke a tackle, and raced 20 yards for the touchdown. Another Olsen extra point gave Morgan County a 14-8 lead. Just over three minutes later, the Cougar defense cashed in as Zeke Hall returned an interception 69 yards for a score and a 21-8 Cougar lead after one quarter.

Hall would strike again, this time back on the offense side of the ball. Zeke's nine yard TD run with 7:49 remaining in the half provided his team with a comfortable 27-8 lead. Then on the ensuing kickoff, Derrick Young's tackle on the Engineer ball carrier resulted in a fumble, which was recovered by John Robert Henderson. That would lead to yet another Cougar score as Derrick Young posted his second touchdown of the contest on a 31-yard run for a 33-8 lead at the half.

The Cougars continued the rout only three minutes into the second half. Zeke Hall found Wes Montgomery for a 34-yard scoring pass, giving Morgan a 32-point cushion. In the fourth quarter, the Cougar defense again collected his first interception of the season. Coach Randy Wood then went with his second team offense, which was impressive in its own right. Cougar defender Matthew Peyton (10) moves to intercept Estill County runner during Morgan County's game with the Engineers.

David Downey brought the Cougar faithful to their feet. Then with under a minute to play, running back Brandon Ward gave fans even more to cheer about with his first touchdown of the season, a 17-yard scoring run to make it a 47-8 game. Ward hand an outstanding fourth quarter—rushing for 75 yards on 10 carries.

Offensively, Derrick Young ran for 102 yards on 14 carries and two touchdowns—giving him 10 TD's now on the season. As for Zeke Hall, he was a one man wrecking crew. The Cougar senior ran for a score, threw for another, and then picked off a pass for yet another TD as his team dominated Estill in literally every aspect of the game.

The Cougars now take their show on the road for an all-important district matchup with Lewis County on Friday. After opening the season with three consecutive wins, the Lions have dropped four of their last five games, including a 55-7 loss at Russell last Friday.

A Morgan County victory tomorrow would secure a second straight winning season, but more importantly, wrap up another post-season berth as well. All fans are encouraged to make the road trip to Vanceburg to support the Cougars.

The 2005 Lady Cougars volleyball team has had an outstanding season, boasting an outstanding 23-8 record.

In a big road victory over Perry County Central High School Monday, Oct. 3, the Morgan girls settled down after losing the first set, 20-25, to win the last two rounds, 25-20 and 28-8.

Coach Tammy Hensley credited Courtney Lacy's serves with keeping Morgan in the game during the first set. Lacy accounted for 10 points with her serves, four being aces, while her teammates were adjusting to Perry Central's unexpected competitiveness, Hensley said.

Stepping up their net game in the second set, the Lady Cougars' Alyssa Dulen had three blocks, a tip, and a kill; Leslie Eagle dominated with three blocks, two dunks, and three kills. Courtney Lacy again shown with nine points on her serves, two of which were aces. And Coach Haney was pleased with Jarvis, Cantrell, and Lacy, who had some incredible digs and sets.

The Morgan girls dominated in the third set. Haley Eagle stepped up with three tips, Leslie Eagle with two kills, three blocks, and two tips, and Alyssa Dulen dominated the net with three blocks, three tips, and three kills. Top notch serves dished out by Sam Jarvis accounted for eight of Morgan's 28 points.

On Oct. 5, the team traveled to Greenup for their last regular season game. After the Lady Cougar junior varsity won their game in two straight sets to end the season with a 15-3 record, the varsity posted a win over Greenup, but not before losing the first set 20-25. Although Leslie had two kills and a tip and Courtney Lacy made two kills, the Lady Cougars' serves wouldn't fall in the first set.

It was a different story in the second set as Morgan's defensive play picked up. Alyssa Dulen posted two kills, two blocks, and two tips and Leslie Eagle's tip and two blocks sparked the early going. Then, getting their serves to fall, Holly Eagle scored five points and Candis Cantrell scored five. Good defensive work by Leeann Lacy, Shandra Lewis, Candis Cantrell, and Sam Jarvis digging out serves and spikes helped Morgan win the set 25-18.

Good all-round play propelled the Lady Cougars to a 25-16 win in the third set. Contributing to the win were Alyssa Dulen with two kills and two blocks, Courtney Lacy with one kill, and Haley Eagle with three kills and a tip. Sam Jarvis' served added seven points and Haley Eagle served up six points. The Morgan girls didn't allow a single ball to hit the floor during the set, as they finished the season with a 23-8 record.

Morgan was scheduled to meet East Carter in district play on Tuesday.

Bass Club tourney winners

Headwaters Bass Club members participated in their 9th Cave Run Tournament September 3 and 4. David Phipps and Dale Gafferney won first place and also had the big fish. Second place went to Kenny Hager and Ralph Kidd, Jr., and Randy Cantrell came in third.

Bass Club had soggy winner

Eric Cantrell, front left, got off to a soggy start by falling out of the boat, but came in with a clean finish by capturing first place and landing the biggest fish at the Headwaters Bass Club's Yatesville Tournament on September 18. First Place and Big Fish went to Eric Cantrell along with his partner, Chalmer Adams. Second place went to Eddie Martin and Keith Humble. Third Place went to a father and son team, Ralph Lockard and Scott Lockard. This was a pleasant birthday present for Ralph, who was celebrating his 85th birthday Saturday.

Leroy Wright, left, accepts Employee of the Month Award from Deputy Warden Paul Holbrook.

Employee of the Month at EKCC

Leroy Wright was named Employee of the Month of July at Eastern Kentucky Correctional Complex. Mr. Wright began his career in Corrections as a Correctional Officer at EKCC in May 2001. "He has proven himself to have exceedingly competent abilities and knowledge in performing his job duties and holds the highest regard for the security and safety of the institution," said Warden John Motley. "Officer Wright is greatly respected by his peers and strives to lead by example and is a very deserving recipient of the employee of the month award."

Congratulations on a job well done!

A Lifetime Of Lessons

This only takes a few minutes to read, but is full of a lifetime of lessons. Please, take the time... The following has been attributed to State Representative Mitchell Kaye from Georgia. The guy should run for President...

Preamble

We, the sensible people of the United States, in an attempt to help everyone get along, restore some resemblance of justice, avoid any more riots, keep our nation safe, promote positive behavior, and secure the blessings of debt free liberty to ourselves and our great-great-great grandchildren, hereby try one more time to ordain and establish some common sense guidelines for the terminally whiny, guilt ridden, and delusional. We hold these truths to be self-evident: that a whole lot of people are confused by the Bill of Rights and are so dim that they require a Bill of No Rights.

Article I

You do not have the right to a new car, big screen TV or any other form of wealth. More power to you if you can legally acquire them, but no one is guaranteeing anything.

Article II

You do not have the right to never be offended. This country is based on freedom, and that means freedom for everyone—not just you! You may leave the room, turn the channel, express a different opinion, etc., but the world is full of idiots, and probably always will be... and like the rest of us, you need to simply deal with it.

Article III

You do not have the right to be free from harm. If you stick a screwdriver in your eye, learn to be more careful; do not expect the tool manufacturer to make you and all your relatives independently wealthy by telling them they didn't warn you not to stick the screwdriver in your eye.

Article IV

You do not have the right to free food and housing. Americans are the most charitable people to be found, and will gladly help anyone in need, but we are quickly growing weary of subsidizing generation after generation of professional couch potatoes who achieve nothing more than the creation of another generation of professional couch potatoes.

Article V

You do not have the right to free health care. That would be nice, but from the looks of public housing, we should be wary of public health care or public anything.

Article VI

You do not have the right to physically harm other people. If you kidnap, rape, intentionally maim, or kill someone, don't be

Airman James C. Harris

Harris completes AF basic training

Air Force Reserve Airman 1st Class James C. Harris has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is the son of Patsy Hensley of Crestview Lane, West Liberty, Ky., and Scott Harris of Hickory Heights, Olive Hill, Ky.

surprised if the rest of us want to see you fry in the electric chair (yes, capital punishment).

Article VII

You do not have the right to the possessions of others. If you rob, cheat or coerce away the goods or services of other citizens, don't be surprised if the rest of us get together and lock you away in a place where you still won't have the right to a big screen color TV, pool tables, weight rooms, or a life of leisure.

Article VIII

You don't have the right to a job. All of us use want you to have a job, and will gladly help you along in hard times, but we expect you to take advantage of the opportunities of part time jobs, education and vocational training laid before you to make yourself useful.

Article IX

You do not have the right to happiness. Being an American means that you have the right to PURSUE happiness—which by the way, is a lot easier if you are not encumbered by an overabundance of idiotic laws created by those of you who were confused by the Bill of Rights.

Article X

This is an English speaking country. We don't care where you are from. We welcome you here. English is our language and like the one you left behind, we also have a culture. Learn it or go back to the country and the living conditions you were fleeing."

If you agree, share this with a friend. No, you don't have to, and nothing tragic will befall you if you don't. I just think it is about time common sense is allowed to flourish—just call it "The Age Of Reason—Revisited."

THE HEART OF A CHILD

Whatever you write on the heart of a child,
No water can wash away;
The sand may be shifted,
and the effects of time may decay.

Some stories may perish,
Some songs be forgot.
But the graven record — time changes it not.

Whatever you write on the heart of a child,
A story of gladness or care,
that heaven has blessed or earth has defiled,
Will linger unchangeable there.

The Courtyard

The mud slinging, vote-buying and stealing, emotion-charged, brand of 'politickin' that often marked Morgan County elections in former times was probably enjoyed by those who practiced it and interesting to watch for the few who were in a position to remain uninvolved and above the fray. Truth be told, we don't miss it much. But one bit of our past that has slipped from the scene with the passing of the years was caught in the following poem by the late Walter Franklin, who served for many years as Morgan County's circuit clerk.

The Courtyard

As courthouses come
an' courtyards go,
There's a heap of shavin's
Fer the winds to blow.
'Cause the whittlers may
All while away the days,
Jes' whittlin' on sticks
In many ways.

A whittler's stick
Is slick as a gut,
Usually the choicest
Of a cedar cut,
An' the curlycue shavin'
Rolls off in a twist
At the slidin' of a blade
An' flex of a wrist.

All day they whittle
With a break for a snack,
But they're not long gone
'Till they're all right back;
All 'neath the shade
Of a sprangled big tree,
Shavin' a cedar stick
To a needle-like tee.

Set aside concentration
Of the whittler's deep aim,
An' the traders in knives
Must stake their claim.
An' there is droppin'
An' sight unseen
'Till real t'boot talkin'

Gets awfully blamed keen.

Somebody gets a skinnin'

But it doesn't last long,
'Cause the fella with a Barlow

With a broken blade
Trades for a double X
Over in another shade.

A dollar to boot

Or fifty cents to pull a blade

And the best kind of knife
Is offered in the trade . . .

Try it on the stick

An it shaves razor thin,

An' th' boot goes up

As another quarter goes in.

Every whittler in th' yard
Has his own sittin' spot,

An' to move elsewhere

He's jes' as soon not,

Cause his pile of shavin's

Are either left or right

An' only the winters

Can hide them from sight.

The years meander on

Down the spiral of time

As the whittlers philosophize

In reason an' rhyme,

Tellin' great wild tales

Which are loaded sky high,

Th' kinda tellin' tales

Most apt t'be a lie.

Blessings on them

As they heed day's call

To whittle an' fuss

From spring 'till fall . . .

As they sum up problems

Of the world today

An' make their decisions

Come what may.

As courthouses come

An' courtyards go

From the bounce of the robin

To the flurry of snow,

Comes the ole whittlers

To the shade of a tree

To fuss an' to argue

To agree or disagree.
